Note: Milk should be kept at a constant temperature of 37 degrees to ensure freshness. Most existing vendors that chill only the bottom third of the machine will not suffice in keeping milk cold. However, a growing number of machines are available today that can do the job properly. Several vendors are listed for your reference.

Dixie-Narco

The Dixie-Narco 5591 Bev-Max "got milk®" vendor has a capacity of up to 405 packages. The refrigeration system is designed to cool the entire cabinet, and the vendor comes equipped with a health guard that keeps the product from being dispersed should the temperature of the cabinet exceed a safe level. The Dixie-Narco 5591 will support all available coin changers, bill accepters, and card-reading equipment available in today's market. Each column may be individually priced, and the vendor features a space-to-sales function that ensures first-in, first-out product rotation. The vendor also provides full financial and product audit functions.

Note: Dairy Management Inc.™ does not officially endorse or claim responsibility for any individual company or product listed in this directory.

The Dixie-Narco Entray vendor is similar to the Bev-Max “got milk?” machines but can dispense a variety of products including milk, cheese and yogurt. Kits are available to convert existing Bev-Max or Baby Bev-Max machines to an Entray vendor or new machines can be ordered customized with specific trays to accommodate the products being dispensed.

Kits include trays with spiral dispensing mechanisms that replace some of the bottle trays in the Bev-Max machines. Stocking is easy since the trays roll out and tilt forward. Several sizes of spirals are available to hold a large variety of products. Bev-Max vendors or kit trays can be ordered with 5 or 10 columns. Baby Bev-Max trays can be ordered with 3 or 6 columns.

Estimated prices are the same as the Bev-Max and Baby Bev-Max vendors. Kit prices range from $215 to $382 depending on size of tray and options ordered. Kit includes one tray with additional trays ranging from $185 to $242.
